Lloyd, Alec Alley Choices

Lloyd Chow and Alec McKeachie will be big favorites to win the scratch all-events title this weekend when the 19th annual city handicap tenpin championships wind up at Strathcona Bowling Alleys.

Chow rolled a 634 series in the team events last week and McKeachie was not far behind, rolling a 614. Winner of the all-events title, being declared this year for the first time, will receive the Jack Bacon Memorial Trophy.

Donated by Strathcona Alleys, the trophy is named for a keen Victoria bowling enthusiast who died Christmas Day.

Fergy Figures To Win Shuttles

Bert Fergus, a flashy Vancouver shuttle star, is a good bet to walk off with two titles this weekend in the annual B.C. badminton championships.

The championships start tonight and wind up Sunday at the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club.

Fergus is top-seeded in the men's singles, followed by Bill Bonney of Vancouver, Nick Johnstone of Seattle and Tommy Meredith of Vancouver.

TOP-SEEDED

In the men's doubles, Fergus and Dave McTaggart, the Canadian singles champion, are the top-seeded combination. Following them are Victoria's Bob Hunt and Ed Headley, Stu Reid and Eric Hibberson, also of Victoria, and Eric Slack and Bill Bonney of Vancouver.

Vancouver's Clare Lovett is top-seeded in the women's singles ahead of Charlotte Warren of Vancouver, Sharon Whittaker of Victoria and Mary Ann Wolfe of Portland.

In the women's doubles, Joyce MacDonald of Vancouver and Muriel Knott of Victoria are top-seeded. Clare Lovett and Charlotte Warren are seeded second, Bev Andersen and Sharon Whittaker third and Jill Kelly and Clare King fourth.

Australia Recovers World Cricket Prize

ADELAIDE, Australia (Reuters) — Australia Thursday regained the Ashes—symbol of supremacy in Anglo-Australian cricket — when they beat England by 10 wickets in the fourth test match.

The win gave Australia a 3-0 lead in the five-match series, one matching having been drawn.

Local batsman Les Favell cracked a four off Colin Cowdrey which clinched victory for Australia with 1¼ hours to spare and signalled the return of the Ashes they lost in England in 1953.

A draw would have been enough for Australia to win the series, but they were left the easy target of 35 in two hours for victory when England's second innings closed at 270 in mid-afternoon.

England, out for 240 in their first innings in reply to Australia's 476, had followed on two days before.

England resumed at 198 for five, 39 runs behind. They lost Freddie Trueman with only one run added, but Tom Graveney (53 not out) and Frank Tyson (33) helped stave off the ignominy of an innings defeat.

Graveney's admirable innings lasted five hours, eight minutes, and included five boundaries.

Wally Grout, Australian wicketkeeper, took three catches in the innings — one short of the target set by a Sydney newspaper to qualify for a prize of £100 Australian ($224).

Ray Lindwall, seeking one wicket to equal Clarrie Grimmett's Australian test record of 216, failed to get it in 11 overs.

As in the first innings, Australian skipper Richie Benaud's leg spinners did the most damage to England. He took four wickets for 82 runs in the second innings to bring his match analysis to nine for 173.
